Do you want to reduce errors, create consistent product and service; improve customer confidence and satisfaction – and all for free?

Did you know you can employ local consultants for free?

In the current difficult economic climate, it is critically important to retain existing customers and win new customers. Can you refuse free assistance to help you improve and be ahead of your competitors?

ISOtec are Fort Myers based consultants who are trainers for GE, Bacardi, Tupperware, M&M, Modesto Wines, Boeing, etc. We have assisted many Florida companies implement ISO 9000. We can help you implement an effective ISO 9000 management system that meets your needs without all the paperwork and bureaucracy. ISOtec also have obtained grant funding for many of their clients that typically pays 75% of the costs and sometimes 100% of the costs. So you could get free use of a consultant to design and implement an ISO 9000 system to meet your needs.
